Autumn 1 2026 Post learning

How has Abraham's faith influenced our own faith?

Abraham was told be God to leave his home, friends and family and travel a long way away. In return, God said he would send Abraham more children than there were stars in the sky. Because Abraham had such strong faith in God, he did it.

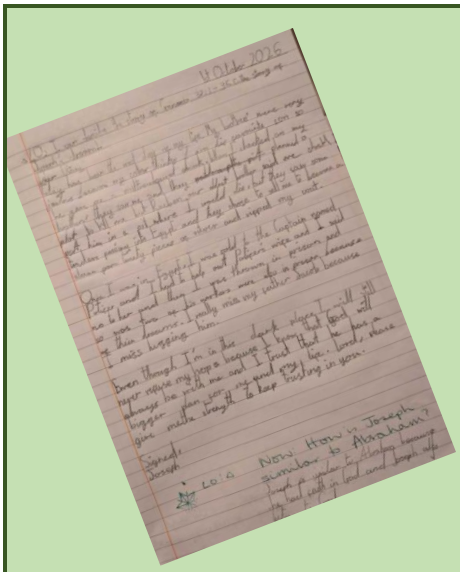

In our lessons, we thought about how Abraham and his wife, Sarah, would have felt. We wrote a thought bubble in role as one of them and also did a conscience alley to help them make their decision as to whether to stay or go.

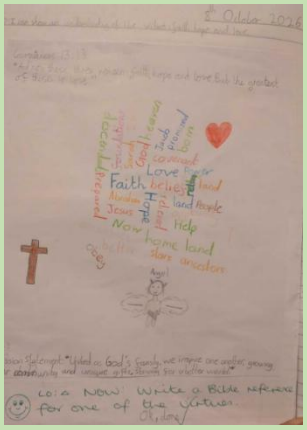

We also learnt about the virtues: faith, hope and love. We looked for Bible quotations about these and examined what they told us. We discussed how Abraham and also Jacob's son, Joseph, had chosen the virtues of faith and how these virtues can be strengthened through prayer.

Finally, we looked at the life and work of St. Oscar Romero and thought about how he had shown faith and love and had lived out the Catholic Social Teachings of solidarity, respect for human dignity and care for the poor and vulnerable.

In our post learning, we considered all that we had learnt, including how Abraham's faith influenced our own faith.
